TEACHING CERTIFICATE

The Bachelor's Degree in Music in the subject Classical Piano, issued by the Zuyd University of Applied Sciences in Heerlen, states that Rozálie Stoklasová, born 03-08-2003 in Valašské Meziříčí (Czech Republic) has passed the examination. This certificate fully and officially qualifies Rozálie Stoklasová to teach at first grade level in Classical Piano.

The training leading to this certificate had a nominal course duration of four years and consisted of several courses in basic teaching skills and the two-year minor teaching specialization Advanced Teaching Skills. This programme has a total amount of 30 EC according to the European Credit Transfer System and consists of the following courses:

- Applied piano
- Basic Teaching Skills
- Conducting and Arranging
- Pedagogical theory and didactics
- Methodology
- Work placement
- Educational project
- Instrument specific methodology
- Final Assignment (Bachelor thesis educational research)

Moreover, in order to clarify confusion around the teaching programme in music, Bachelor of Music with teaching minor is the only programme offered by Conservatorium Maastricht that leads to the title of music teacher for instrumental or vocal lessons. The Master's programme in Music Studies, as provided by Conservatorium Maastricht, does not include any further teaching components.

To sum up, Rozálie Stoklasová successfully completed the teaching specialization, earning the official teaching qualification in Classical Piano hence, Rozálie Stoklasová is fully qualified to legally teach in the Netherlands using the title of Music Teacher.

Each country has its own legal prerequisites concerning pedagogical qualifications of music teachers in various fields. It is the responsibility of each (future) employee to inform himself on these prerequisites and to eventually acquire a valid assertation statement from the relevant authorities. Conservatorium Maastricht has ordered Nuffic, the Dutch organisation for internationalisation in education, to research the music teacher education in five countries: Germany, France, Luxemburg, Belgium and Spain. The goal of this research was to gain insights in the way the education for music teachers is regulated in these countries.
